12:05-12:30	Ethical Issues in CF Care: CFTR modulators	John Massie (AU)
12:30-12:45	To work or not to work, benefits or no benefits – social ethics in times of CFTR modulators	Femke Hoebrechts (BE)
12:45-13:00	Discussion, future challenges, and questions from the audience	All speakers

Aims/ Objectives:

At the end of the session, the participant will be able to:

1. Question whether CFTR modulator therapy should be prescribed for all children eligible for them
2. Evaluate the role of CFTR modulators in pregnancy
3. Conclude whether CF meets threshold criteria for inclusion in carrier screening protocols in the era of CFTR modulators
4. Think outside the box when considering social benefits, working and CF in the era of CFTR modulators
5. Discuss the ethical responsibilities of health care workers with regard to social benefits and work prospects for patients

Target audience:

All members of the multi-disciplinary team including doctors, nurses, dietitians, physiotherapists, psychologists, social workers etc. Suitable for both adult and paediatric teams.

The webinar will be recorded and available on the ECFS Education Platform afterwards for ECFS members.
